An unpleasant surprise was in store for those in attendance at the Congregational Church on Sunday morning, when at the close of the service the resignation of Dr. Frary as pastor of the church on account of ill health was read. Dr. Frary has not been able to occupy the pulpit for two Sundays and is advised by physicians after consultation that rest from pastoral work for an indefinite time is imperative. Following is his letter of resignation:

To Pilgrim Congregational Church, Boston, Mass.

Dear Friends—Well-nigh fifteen years ago I came to you because of the voice of God which called me hither. The manifold blessings that have come to us in our pastorates have been indeed many. In course of time, given grace, we did not misinterpret the divine leading at that time. Today it seems no less clear that I am providentially led to lay down my pastoral office. I have been advised by physicians that the state of my health is such that cessation from pastoral labor is absolutely necessary to the recovery which I have sought for so long. Therefore, I shall return to you the sacred trust which you committed to my hands at the first. I now tender my resignation to the officers of your church, and will take effect on the thirty-first day of December next. Will you please accept the same, and at the appropriate time unite with me in a brief service of thanksgiving? My heart is full and it is not easy to refrain from speaking at length. But I wish to testify here, that it may stand in record, that during this entire pastorate, every election of a person to office and every action taken at any annual meeting, has been by unanimous vote, and that no unkind word has ever been uttered against any member of this church to me or mine. For the great joy I have had in this ministry, for the pleasure with which my wife and her children have been involved, and for the loyal and affectionate bearing which you have unfailing maintained toward me as your minister I render heartfelt gratitude.

As you know, I have been a man of prayer from boyhood, and I have given to God in this pastorate and in all the years of my pastoral work I can make no adequate expression of my only desire, that you will receive this resignation with equanimity. And now, as I have said so often in the dear assemblies of God's house, I say once more, "I trust the divine power that brought me here from the day one Lord Jesus, that great Shepherd of the sheep, through the blood of the everlasting covenant, make you perfect in every virtue." And never let me be buried but that you will be with me in glory forever and ever. Amen.

I remain your husband something in the eyes of strangers.

To ask your wife's opinion when in doubt as to the course you should pursue.

To bemoan a little father on the personal appearance of your husband.

To close your eyes to the harmless vanities of your wife.—Philadelphia Bulletin.

WHO CARES?Who cares that he walks in fading hair,
Who cares that the eye which was once so bright,
Who cares that the heart which was once so strong,
Who cares that the spirit which was once so gay?

Silent witness of strife within.

Who cares for the hands that once were fair?

Who cares for the feet, oft poorly shod?

How weary they get, known only to God!

Who cares for the sighs, the hopes and fears?

Who cares for the tears, the sorrows and fears?

Who cares for the sobs, the low, hushed cry?

For help from above, for light on high?

What matter if ruined the whole of her life?

Patient love, long-suffering love?

There are few who care for me.

God cares for the sorrows, God cares for the pain,

With him in his kingdom now and age to come.

With fever, headache,
the nose seems to permeate bones; this is the beginning, very gradually, of a nerve system and the heart or the digestive system. In January I contracted confined to my bed for stomach badly deranged
most dormant condition.
My condition was worse and as I had often done before, I called on Dr. Miles'—

WEYMOUTH GAZETTE,

PUBLISHED EVERY FRIDAY BY THE GAZETTE PUBLISHING COMPANY,
(EAST CORPORATION.)
WEYMOUTH - MASS.

MR. B. HAWBS.
Manager and Editor.

MASS., AS SECOND-CLASS MATTER.

FRIDAY, DEC. 19, 1902.

We wish you all a Merry Christmas.

You can now get in some extra work in the afternoon. The revolving season has given us two minutes more this week.

Correspondents and advertisers will keep in mind next week that we have a day and get in copy and changes of ads. early.

Weymouth hasn't as large a police force as "Greater-Boston" and some other cities, but none of them look finer than the Weymouth men in their new uniforms and regulation equipments.

Many of the special Christmas services at the several churches for our soldiers have failed to reach us, but there were choice musical programs and appropriate exercises at seventeen different churches down town and you can have your choice.

The address of Capt. Richmond P. Hobson, on "America's" Flagship, delivered at Hotel Brunswick last Saturday was more of a masterpiece of work even than his sinking of the Merrimac. The country may well take the advice of Hobson either for home or foreign use.

One of the responsibilities which will devolve upon Lieut.-Gov. Guild for the next year will be to respond for the Commonwealth at social functions and as Col. Guild is well stocked with general information and a fund of apt anecdotes, post-prandial exercises will not be without interest.

The new clause in the immigration laws which will make it necessary for an immigrant to be able to read in some language before landing, will relieve the country of a class of immigrants who are a menace to American labor and will have a tendency to stop a manner of living which is hardly consistent with a civilized age.

White prices are not, what most people wish they were, we are glad to note, that the fuel situation is somewhat relieved this week. Tugs were at work breaking the ice out of the river on Tuesday and Wednesday and several hundred tons of coal for J. F. Sheehan & Son and A. J. Richards & Son have arrived and the merry sound of coal in the shutes is again heard.

Henry A. Bailey Dead.

After more than a year of failing health, on account of injuries received while handling a cow in his barn, H. A. Bailey passed away at his home on Broad street in East Weymouth early last evening.

Deacon was a son of Henry and Sarah (Gardner) Bailey, and was born seventy years ago. While not a native of East Weymouth, most of his life has been spent there, and no one has been more忠于 his honor and respect him. He took no active part in political or society matters, and consequently was known best by the home circle and neighbors, among whom he will be greatly missed.

The Congregational church and Crescent Lodge, I.O.O.F. were his fraternal associates.

Mr. Bailey married Hannah, daughter of John L. Pratt, and she with two sons, George W. and Bernard C., survive him.

Funeral services will be held at his late home on Monday at two o'clock.

Compliment to Weymouth Contractor.

A very elaborate description and account of the new High School building, just dedicated at Hyde Park, as published in the Architectural Master Builder concludes as follows:

"In short the High School building which Hyde Park is thus fortunate in securing is fit for appointment, utility and decoration, and will be used sparingly by even more costly structures. The architects are to be congratulated upon the success of their efforts."

Franklin D. Smith is due the builder, Mr. G. M. Pratt of Weymouth who has so carefully executed in every detail the ideas which are embodied in this model structure.

THE SONG OF THE ANGELS.

Faith in the days of old,
When the people were young,
One night o'er the plains of Judea,
A wonderful dream was sung.

It was sung by the angels of glory,
And the earth trembled through the night
Their voices as they patiently waited,
The advent of morning's glad light.

Shaking out through the shadows of midnight
They had found a vision so bright,
The stars and the moon were shining,
The shepherds stood trembling with fright.

Lowly listening, they heard the good tidings
Of glory and of peace, and good will,
And the earth trembled through the night,
The world's deepest hope to fulfill.

Never more shall the star and the vision
To the shepherds or wise men appear,
But the world's glad light still shines,
Sings on through the world far and near.

Sing, oh anthem of heaven,
Sing on to our saviors' heart;
Sing unto the heart of the nation,
Sing to our swift winged host.

-Frank L. Phalen.

MERIT REWARDED.

O. M. Hackett Receives Another Honor.

As it seems but a few short years since O. H. Hackett, now a leading business man and banker of Greater New York, began his business career in the building we now occupy, we copy the following from the Merchantile and Financial Times, thinking it will be of interest to his many friends in Weymouth and Braintree.

"The announcement to the effect that O. H. Hackett has been elected vice-president of the Bank of the Metropolis, succeeding Mr. Isham, resigned, affords satisfaction to all who have known the selection being regarded as an excellent one, directly in the interests of that important and useful institution."

"For a company to have a prominent place in this community is a gentleman of sound ability and experience who has had a remarkably successful and creditable career."

"As a member of the well-known firm of Hackett, Parker & Company, he has had a high reputation for his personal capacity and sound judgment. Mr. Hackett is a member of the Board of Trustees of the Bowditch School, one of the oldest schools of the kind in the world, and he also served as a member of the executive committee. Mr. Hackett is a man of great energy and tact, and with the bank he is also a member of the Chamber of Commerce and of the Board of Directors of the Land Trust Corporation. In his banking business, in all its different phases and details, there can be no question as to his eminent fitness for the position he has held. We trust that Mrs. Anna F. Lord and Mr. Williamson can render classical duets on piano and organ with skill and good taste."

"Mr. Waterman's baritone solo, accompanied by both organ and piano, was a revelation of the powers of his cultivated voice and delightfully perfect enunciation. His rare singer."

Mrs. Avery reminded us of the days given at the Union Church, South Weymouth, was a concert by the Schubert Male Quartette of Boston, assisted by F. O. Harrell, entertainer. This concert was given on Wednesday evening, Dec. 17, and was very largely attended. The artists comprising the quartette are George Deane, first tenor; Charles W. Swaine, second tenor; William W. Walker, bass; George R. Clark, bass, having on former occasion enjoyed the light and singing of this quartette, the audience clapped and cheered for musical treat, and their expectations were fully gratified, each number being finely rendered.

The musical selections upon the Swiss bells, musical glasses, and saxophone and the tricks by Mr. Harrell were also very entertaining. The organ recital by Mr. L. E. Tilden was, as always, a delight to music lovers. The several numbers on the program were heartily encored and the artists graciously re-peated.

School Notes.

The Monday Club of Weymouth held its regular meeting on the afternoon of Dec. 16, at the home of Mrs. Rufus Bates upon the return of the family of Mr. Bates from their summer vacation.

The president, Mrs. Elizabeth Pratt, was in the chair on account of the inability of the president, Miss Susan C. Richards, to present.

The board of health has asked the committee to look after the matter of vaccination and all teachers and scholars should show a certificate of recent success in work in that direction.

Miss Britie A. Harlow has resigned her position as teacher in grade 7, Franklin school.

Huyler's Chocolate Co. and Washburn Flour Companies have each sent the school a barrel samples of their feeds, also people whom we call "cranks" only have a smile with a good deal of wind in them; also people who wear themselves out striving to get "tangs" with which to stuff their houses, which things make an endless amount of work and worry and are actually destructive to the visitor, their windmill is more, many things to make them miserable.

One of the greatest windmills with the longest arms and the hardest to control is "worry." That windmill we want it falls the the winds and the sooner it falls the better.

Dolphin Lodge Etch Officers.

The regular semi-annual election of officers for Dolphin Lodge, No. 15, K. of P. was held last evening with the following result: C. C. Russell, B. Worster, V. C. Charles G. Jordan; prelate, Thaddeus G. Hyland; M. of W. Burton L. Baker; K. H. S. Francis M. Brown; M. of F. Burton F. Johnson; M. of E. Jesse H. Pierce; M. of A. John Q. Hunt; I. G. Russell E. Poule; O. G. Charles E. White; Mr. C. M. Brown; trustee for three years, Joel F. Shepard.

PORTER

—Ancell Holbrook has obtained a position at M. N. Arnold's factory at North Arlington.

—Many idle men found employment last Saturday's snow storm as George Maynard had a large delegation of men showing up.

—Mrs. John Long of Framingham was entering upon her sister, Mrs. Lester Hart, last Sunday.

—Miss Matel Davison is taking an enforced vacation this week.

—Mrs. Simon Galant and Mary Poole have secured positions at the Singing Lagoon factory.

—Mrs. John Green is quite ill at her home on Washington street.

—P. A. A. Kasket Hall.

The Porter A. A. basketball team, composed of Quinn and Fred Monroe, forwards; Frank Monroe, center; Gibson and W. McFawn, guards; H. McFawn and P. Lane, substitutes; are to play against the strong Cobasset team at Cohasset tonight. Tomorrow night (Saturday) we are to meet up with the Illegans A. A. at Illegans. Arrangements are being made whereby the team can play home games, as there is great interest developing in basket ball in Weymouth. As the team has been registered as non-professional in the American Athletic Union, no games but with registered teams can be played, which guarantees nothing but good, clean games with plenty of excitement.

CHRISTMAS SONG.

Why do little children sing?

Seen by shepherds afar,
Gently swayed until the light of a manger shone bright.

There a darling baby lay,
Pillows soft upon his head.

And his mother sang and smiled,
This is Christ, the Holy Child.

Therefore bells for Christmas ring.

—Eugene Field.

—Mrs. Early Riccio,
The famous little papa.

F. W. Brown, Chassé.

—Sheet Music Free.

Every person calling at Beal & McCarthy's piano ware rooms, Rockland, will receive a sheet of music free during the holidays.

It will be good news to the mothers of small children to learn that crop can be prevented. The first sign of crop is hoarseness. A doctor or nurse before the fact the child becomes hoarse. This is soon followed by a peculiar rough cough. Give Chamberlain's Cough Remedy freely as soon as the child becomes hoarse, or even after the rough cough appears, and it will dispel all symptoms of crop. In this way all danger and anxiety may be avoided. This remedy is used by many thousands of mothers and has never been known to fail. It is, in fact, the only remedy that can always be depended upon and that is pleasant and safe to take. For sale at William Webster's drug store.

WITH ENGLAND AND GERMANY.Beginning of the Troubles Which Has Developed Into War—The Parton Island Dispute and Its Relation to Present Affairs.While most people have in a general way been aware that Venezuela was in a serious muddle, very few knew why England and Germany had sent powerful fleets against and began war upon the South American republic.
The secret lies in these two European powers is in the collection of debts and indemnities.The Kaiser's principal claim is that of the German railroad, built at a cost of $10,000,000, upon which Venezuela guaranteed a 7 per cent interest, a figure which is 185% to 5 per cent. This interest Venezuela has defaulted for several years.Great Britain's sensible claim covers a number of items growing out of the Venezuelan government's appropriation of British railroads. Another reason for England's activity against Venezuela is her desire to settle theCOMRADES YETI!Bogish eyed,
Dad's here!

Funny little chap he is!

Day or night, hugs me tight,

Lies in bed, says "Good night!"

Throws his little arms around me,

In his chair, says "Good night!"

Daddy's always got some handy!

Funny little chap he is;

Likes to be "where daddy is!"

Fresh and bright,

When I leave my business car,

There's a seat, it's all the same,

Makes no difference what the weather

When we run out and play together,

Comes home, it's all the same;

And the heart beats stronger, faster;

Funny little chap he is;

Likes to be "where daddy is!"

In the sky,

Dad's here!

Will I meet my comrade there?

Will our friendship be fair?

God that rules, my petition,

Hunny and in right contention,

Let's meet, it's great fun over;

Keep us comrades that there may be here!

Faithful like that can be here!

Likes to be "where daddy is!"

recognized by the Madrid government and that Pato has remained in the peaceful possession of Great Britain for more than a century, during seventy years in which Venezuela under-neglected no opportunity.

Jalo do Pato, on Duck Island, lies to the westward of the British island of Spain, in the mouth of the Dragon, as the channel which separates it from the latter island is called. It was discovered by Christopher Columbus in

1498, when it was on his third voyage to America.

While the island itself is comparatively small, being but a mile orso in extent and having no important town, it still occupies a strategic position with relation to the Caribbean seas and the great harbor of Port of Spain. A fort and gun establishment, which commands the channel

most effectively. Great Britain is of course fully alive to the importance of holding such an outpost, which is undoubtedly of more value to her than to Venezuela. So it would appear that the latter country will have some trouble in maintaining its claim against the island.

Small and apparently insignificant as it is, it may be the source of much wrangling and even bloodshed. Man-

Sugar fell 23-4 points on Tuesday but we are more interested in coal than we are in sugar just now.

You can put your feet in your stockings this morning. There is no further use for stockings on the chimney wall.

The last salutes were performed over the remains of the late Attorney-General, Moses M. Knowlton, on Monday and there is another vacancy at the top in Massachusetts.

When making your estimates for 1903 estimate a year's subscription to the Gazette, and get in the subscription early. It will cost you only four cents a week and no home should be without it. Your neighbor may be using it just the time you want to borrow it.

When a man can personate a soldier who has been dead sixteen years and bring a long list of witnesses to swear that he is that person and draw a pension for ten years, it illustrates one of the difficulties the pension bureaus have to contend with and explains why there is sometimes a delay in cases of real merit being dealt with.

"The breaking waves dashed high Two hundred and eight long years Since first a little band of soldiers Moored their bark on the Wild New England Shore" and in many places the anniversary of the event was celebrated in a fitting manner. The "band of exiles" builded well and if they are now permitted to look down from the battlement of the Eternal City, they must feel that their sufferings and privations were not in vain.

The guessers in regard to free mail delivery have had another lining this week. One party who is in close touch (?) with the inside ring is going to have the 1st of March. Another one equally as well informed puts it the 1st of April and still another July 1st. It seems to be the case where you "pays your money and takes your choice." It is however, evident that the post office system of Weymouth is a complex one for the department to handle.

Mrs. George Henry Pratt Dead.

The scion of another true and honored life is finished and folded in the sudden death of Mrs. Eliza L. Pratt, wife of Mr. George Henry Pratt, who became a citizen of North Weymouth Dec. 16, 1892. Mrs. Pratt arose at the usual hour well apparently as usual, but just before breakfast she was stricken with a shock and passed away before noon. The announcement of her death came as a painful surprise to all who knew her.

Mrs. Pratt was the only daughter of Capt. Cornelius and Rebecca B. Pratt of North Weymouth. Eliza L. was born June 30th, 1853 in the house on Bridge street which she always made her home and in which she last died. The other children of the family are three brothers who grew to man's estate in Weymouth, Benjamin F., William P., and Josiah H. Pratt, the latter being the only surviving one of the brothers.

In early life Eliza L. attended a private school at the Landing, also Derby Academy, Hingham, and Bradford Academy, Bradford, Mass. For a short time she taught school in her native town. One of the events things of her life was a trip to the Pacific coast in the days of sailing vessels, and in ship of which her father was master. She was six years old when she made this trip around Cape Horn, and the particular voyage was a rough one in which four of the family shared the dangers and pleasures of the trip.

In 1855 she married George Henry Pratt of this place, and, as the name indicates, there was no occasion to change her own surname. Mrs. Pratt was the mother of four children, all of whom died in comparatively early life, and for whom she sincerely mourned.

Mrs. Pratt was a member of the Pilgrim Church previous to becoming identified with this church, she was for many years a member of the Old North Church. As a Christian she was faithful and conscientious; as a friend she was kind and generous in many ways; as a woman she was quiet and methodical in all her manner of life. Whilst a sufferer for some time before her death, yet she never cared to make her ailments the subject of conversation and wisely chose to dwell upon more agreeable topics. She was singularly free from a spirit of complaining, and as one of the nephews well remarked, "she was a thorough Christian, as good and thoughtful as the home she was an example to all."

The funeral service was largely attended on Thursday afternoon, Dec. 18, conducted by Rev. T. H. Vincent, pastor of the Pilgrim Church. The singing was a quartette under the direction of Mr. A. J. Sidelinger and the floral offerings were many and beautiful.

Mrs. Pratt has the heartfelt sympathy of many friends as his home seems left unto desolate.

Drs. J. H. Libby and E. N. Mayberry of this town attended the illustrated surgery without bloodshed of Dr. Lorenz in Boston on Monday.

Few trials are more keen than the misrepresentation of goodness. An evil motive imputed to a saintly deed is as bad as a serpent. The clouds of derision lower at some time over every saintly heart. The life of the saint is hidden and cannot be understood by the worlding.

This is the season of the year when the prudent and careful housewife replenishes her supply of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. It is certain to be needed before the winter is over, and results are much more prompt and satisfactory when it is kept at hand and given as soon as the cold is contracted and before it has become settled in the system. In almost every instance the cold will be warded off by taking this remedy first, as it is the first indication of the cold appears. There is no danger in giving it to children for it contains no harmful substance. It is pleasant to take—both adults and children like it. Buy it and you will get the best. It always cures. For sale at William Webster's drug store.

THEIR GOLDEN WEDDING.
Mr. and Mrs. Alexis Torrey Celebrate the Event Informally—Many Tokens of Regard Received.

Mr. and Mrs. Alexis Torrey, among the best-known residents of Boston, celebrated their golden wedding last evening at their home, 110 Massachusetts Avenue. The affair was of an informal nature, and was attended by the family and intimate friends. The house was decorated with flowers and plants, and during the meal a lunch was served. Mr. and Mrs. Torrey were the recipients of many tokens of regard from their large circle of friends and acquaintances.

Mr. Torrey was born at North Weymouth Sept. 24, 1827, and was for years one of the leading business men of south-eastern Massachusetts. In 1849, when the gold fever struck the country, he made the trip around Cape Horn to California and with a party of "forty-niners" made gold in the mines.

Mr. Torrey is one of the leading boat and ship manufacturers for years, commencing this business at North Weymouth in 1852 and retiring from active business in 1870. That quiet little village and Mr. Torrey, who is a public spirited man, did much to build up the community. He is quite a large real estate owner in North Weymouth.

Business, after the retirement of Mr. Torrey, was taken up by his brother, Mr. Torrey's son, Frank Torrey, and Mr. Torrey's son, Frank Torrey.

In 1859 Mr. Torrey formed a partnership with the late Elias S. Read of North Weymouth and established the shoe house of Read, Torrey & Co. in Milwaukee. He is still a member of this firm.

Mrs. Torrey was born at Newcastle, N. H., and before her marriage was Lucie Yeaton. Three children were born to Mr. and Mrs. Torrey, two of whom are living, Frank H. Torrey of North Weymouth and Emerson W. Torrey of Milwaukee.

Mr. Torrey is a member of Orphans' Hope Lodge, F. and A. M. of East Weymouth, being one of the oldest members.

Although never aspired for public office, he has been much interested in the growth and welfare of Weymouth.

Mr. and Mrs. Torrey are remarkably active in spite of advancing years. They spend much of their time during the summer months at North Weymouth with their son. They have a summer home at Nantasket, where they spend a portion of each summer.
